

Q: What is The Plastic Revelations mission?

A: The Plastic Revelation is a call to action. Our world is in dire need of change. Our mission is clear: empower this generation to make a difference and recognize the dangers of polluting our environment.

Q: How did this organization come to be?

A: The Plastic Revelation is born out of a fear for our generation's future. The Plastic Revelation team and I believe that now is the only time to make a change, especially considering that climate change is the most pressing existential threat to the Earth.

Q: Who is the leadership team?

A: The Plastic Revelation is a growing group of board members.

Q: How long has your organization been operating?

A: The Plastic Revelation was created about a year ago.

Q: What change have you already made?

A: Already, The Plastic Revelation has held cleanups throughout the Los Angeles area, with almost all of our volunteers being High School Students.

Q: In the future, what does your organization plan to do?

A: In the future, The Plastic Revelation has a few goals

1. To expand to 50 schools, starting with (the school your talking with)
2. To hold educational events with guest speakers at schools
3. To remove 10,000 pounds of trash
4. To educate the Los Angeles area on how to properly recycle

Q: How can we trust that your organization is reliable?

A: The Plastic Revelation is made up of credible, smart and motivated students. All of whom maintain next to a perfect GPA, and push themselves to change the world. We are also personally liable for all mistakes made, upheld by the US Internal Revenue Service.

Q: How does this benefit me?

A: Students benefit from this opportunity in many ways

1. They gain valuable leadership experience
2. They are given resources to make a change
3. Students will make valuable connections
4. They will have a high position in a Non Profit organization, which they can include in their college resume

Q: How involved will this be with the school?

A: As involved as you would like! Once the branch is in the hands of the student, it's up to them to fundraise, hold events and empower students.

Q: How time consuming is the position?

A: The level of involvement depends on how much you want to contribute. If you hold the minimum requirements, the commitment will be minimal.
